

SUCKLER REPLACEMENTS

Meadow Quality recognises the importance of supplying suckler producers with the correct quality stock they need to replenish their suckler herd.

The average cow is in the herd for between six and eight years; therefore it is even more important that the replacement carries the genetic potential needed to take the enterprise forward and have the right characteristics to suit the farm and the ground. We also realise that the High Health status of the herd is paramount and should not be jeopardised when purchasing stock in.

Meadow Quality has supplied thousands of suckler replacements since the company was formed over thirty years ago. We pride ourselves on repeat business - a sign that we are supplying heifers correct in quality to the right producer.
