

COLLECTION CENTRES

Meadow Quality runs two collection centres which are used as an efficient means of marketing large numbers of lambs from many smaller producers.

The centres usually start running from the beginning of June each year when sufficient numbers of new season lambs are ready to go to the processors from farms throughout the Leicestershire area.

Both centres run on a Thursday (subject to sufficient numbers being available) – farmers deliver their lambs into the centres themselves or for larger consignments, transport can be arranged by Meadow Quality. The batches of lambs are then loaded onto an artic for onward transport overnight to the processing plant.

Batches of lambs should be booked in on Monday by calling Gordon McWhirter on 07703 563 788 with the details of the number and type of lambs, which collection centre is preferred and whether they will be delivered or transport needs to be organised. Confirmation of the time of delivery at the centre, together with price and the processing plant to which they will be going, will be provided at the time of booking in.

Grading sheets will be sent to you no later than the Monday following.
